

Brazilian Brave Eyebrow Threading, Brazilian Waxing Review Shobha Salon

The "Brazilian" it was something that was unspoken for quite sometime, until the "Sex and the City" gals made us feel like it was Ok to discuss - and we SHOULD! I have had numerous waxings, some good, some bad, and some really Bad! We as women need to look out for each other, it's a delicate area –and needs the proper care and attention from someone who knows what they are doing. For those women who have never had a Brazilian wax or those who just can't seem to find the right salon - look no further, I have found the place; SHOBHA! A hidden treasure downtown in the mecca of one of New York's hippest shopping areas. It is one of two salons owned by Shobha a young entrepreneur who I now consider a goddess after going to her salon. Shobha got it right with her salon, it's the whole package, hidden in a corporate like setting on Broadway, this 4th floor Indian inspired salon had a great relaxed atmosphere with an amazing staff that catered toward making the customer feel good, and they did. Every Customer who left the salon had a smile on their face, because for the first time they trusted the staff because they are all well versed in waxing and threading, their specialty. Not only do the customers trust Shobha and her staff but now many Beauty magazines are flocking to her salon for helpful tips for women in need of waxing/threading "911". I'm always nervous when I get a Brazilian, but the staff put me at ease. My specialist made sure I was comfortable by adjusting the room temperature and explaining everything that was going to be done, I finally relaxed when I knew I was in good hands. She was extremely detail oriented and made sure to ask me exactly what I wanted. The Shobha Salon uses a sugar gel which is a form of hair removal but is much less painful, it is made of natural ingredients which is great for those who have sensitive skin. It's a warm gel that adheres to the hair and not the skin. Sugar gel is also great because those stubborn hairs that just don't want to come out-will and with little to no pain. Also for the few stray hairs left they use Threading to remove them, which is less irritating to the skin (and lasted much longer than tweezing - in my experience ) One thing I also learned was that Rosewater Toner that was used after the waxing helps prevent ingrown hairs and helped soothe and cool my skin. This Brazilian lasted much longer than others I've had done in the past. I was also so pleased with the Shobha Salon that I also had my eyebrows threaded to. All of the employees are trained professionals who go through workshops and classes, so these women know what they are talking about. Someone finally explained what I was doing wrong with my eyebrows and how it could be fixed. And let me tell you, one little detail like that can change your face for the better. I felt great after leaving Shobha - I looked good and learned a few things. So ladies treat yourself and make yourself feel sexy, be brave and get a Brazilian! You'll Thank me later.

Kathy Searle
Beauty Editor