

march 16, 2010

houston | fashion + beauty picks.

contributed by natalie bogan spring's around the corner and it's hair apparent you're gonna harness all your flower power before it's smooth sailing to summer.

flower power.

flash back to the swinging sixties with the makeup collab between MAC and the iconic british prints from liberty of london. the limited edish MAC give me liberty of london collection ($12 to $95) features pearlescent shimmery blushes, magenta pink, mauve and neutral lip colors, frosty eyeshadows, and nail lacquers by the names of blue india and vestal white, all adorned with floral and bird motifs. channel twiggys or sienna to be fit for a brit. 2411 stros boulevard. near morningside.713.942.9110. www.maccosmetics.com

→ visit the site

smooth sailing.

the ladies at shobha in NYC are known for their quick and perfect hair removal techniques. obv. that's a long commute for your pre-vacay brazilian, so DIY it with the shobha sugaring kit ($30). it includes sugaring gel, talc free powder, derm strips, spatulas and easy to follow instructions. want all-natural ingreds on those, um, sensitive parts? try no parabens, dyes, fragrances, petrols or resins. and unlike your average waxing alternative, clean-up is easy with just warm water. available at www.mysobha.com

→ visit the site