Problem: You're going away for the weekend and you've just gotten yourself a much-needed bikini wax. But now the skin down there is starting to irritate, and you've got bumps and ingrown hairs to deal with—not good for the beach getaway you were looking forward to.

Solution: For hairless happiness, try Shobha Ingrown Relief Lotion ($22.00, MyShobha.com), which offers a sensitive and effective solution to combat irritations caused by hair removal. Free of parabens, color and artificial fragrance, the natural formula is made of exfoliating glycolic acid, protective tea tree oil and soothing chamomile. So when it's time to hit the beach, you'll be in your bikini and ready to go.
