

Beauty Spotting: 40's Glamour

By Ashley • Jun 15th, 2011 • Category: BEAUTY, Cosmetics, Hair, Skin

Like 0 +1 0 Tweet 0 Pin it

After Steph & I peeped the Hangover II the other night, I found myself a little less infatuated with Bradley Cooper (he's still on my top 5 list, though. call me.), and totally in love with Jamie Chung! I remember her days on the Real World (this dates me, I know), and I'm equally excited for her big screen success and her spot on beauty & fashion choices on the red carpet as of late. Namely her 40's Glamour/Pin-Up look at the LA premiere of "Sucker Punch"

Get the Look:

Eyes:

Easy on the eyeshadow, girls. This look is all about long, flirty, defined lashes. Prime peepers with a thick coat of liquid liner, namely our new 'limitless' liner by smashbox [$22], and coat lashes with lots, and lots, and lots of mascara. YSL's everlong in ever black [$30] will stand the test, and will never, ever clump. Finish by filling in brows with shobha's brow pencil [$16], in a shade lighter than your brows, for beautiful face framing definition.