Hey folks!

This week has been pretty busy with events! New York's most celebrated brow and bikini wax salon, Shobha Brows and Bikini, had opened their grand opening store in Washington, D.C. and all the it-girls came out to mix and mingle among tasty nibbles, sparkling wines, and specialty cocktails like the Shobha-tini. The most impressive aspect of the event was the decor of the salon, which screamed "girls just wanna have fun!" Fluorescent pink, orange and yellow walls adorned with various top fashion magazines raving about Shobha's services brought life to the overall atmosphere. Georgetown Cupcakes was sporadically placed on the merchandise shelves and surrounded by like-colored flower petals. Too pretty for words! Check out some of the fun we had!

Her pants were cute!
